America has always thrived on growth and competition. The situation at hand is no different. The NAB should take into account the sentiments of the listening audience and cut back on advertising to focus on quality broadcasting. Given the opportunity the NAB and local radio will focus on increasing ad revenue and less on service. (This is already happening) XM is simply offering a service to American consumers that will ultimately result in a premium product for everyone. America should not be forced to listen to an inferior service at the hands of the NAB and their fat cat advertisers. Keep competition and premium service moving forward and reject petition 04-160.
